

Counselling Department

Social Work Week March 20—26

March is National Social Work month. The week of March 20-26th is designated to recognize the role of social workers in our community. Social work was essential before the pandemic, crucial during the pandemic and now more than ever, social workers are in critical demand. It is an opportunity to acknowledge organizations and registered social workers for the important work they do, especially during these challenging times for vulnerable people in our province.

Social work has always been essential.
Now, social workers are...

In Critical Demand

Celebrate Social Work Week March 20-26

March is National Social Work Month. Social work was essential before the pandemic, crucial during the pandemic, and now more than ever, social workers are #InCriticalDemand.

#NationalSocialWorkMonth

SASW
Saskatchewan Association of Social Workers

CASW ACTS
Canadian Association of Social Workers
casw-acts.ca

Social workers can help you get the most out of your relationships, work and community life. They help you to identify the source of stress or problems, strengthen coping skills and find effective solutions. Social workers are unique among helping professionals because they look at people's problems within the context of their families, workplace and communities and consider the connection between personal problems and social issues.

